Women in Construction Week

Women in Construction Week celebrates the valuable contributions of women across the construction industry while highlighting the many rewarding career opportunities available in the trades. Join us as we recognize the leadership, skill, and dedication of women who help build our communities and inspire the next generation of construction professionals.